

SciVal registration guide

New user registration

Date: July 2014

Dear SciVal user,

Welcome to SciVal. This is a step-by-step guide to registering and getting access to SciVal.

SciVal is accessible either within your institution’s IP range (“IP access”) or remotely (“remote access”). Your librarian/administrator can tell you what type of access your institution has chosen.

Depending on your institution’s preference, please go to the respective section:

IP accessError! Bookmark not defined.
Remote access.....4

If you have questions about the registration process, please contact the Elsevier sales representative for your institution. You can also contact us online.

Best regards,

The SciVal team

IP access

If your institution is subscribed to SciVal via IP access and you have login credentials to access another Elsevier’s product (e.g. ScienceDirect, Scopus, SciVal Strata), please go to www.scival.com and log in with your existing username and password. There is also a forgotten username or password link, if needed. Make sure that you are within the institution’s IP range when logging in.

Login

SciVal is a ready-to-use solution with unparalleled power and flexibility, which enables you to navigate the world of research and devise an optimal plan to drive and analyze your performance.

You can now log in with your new credentials.

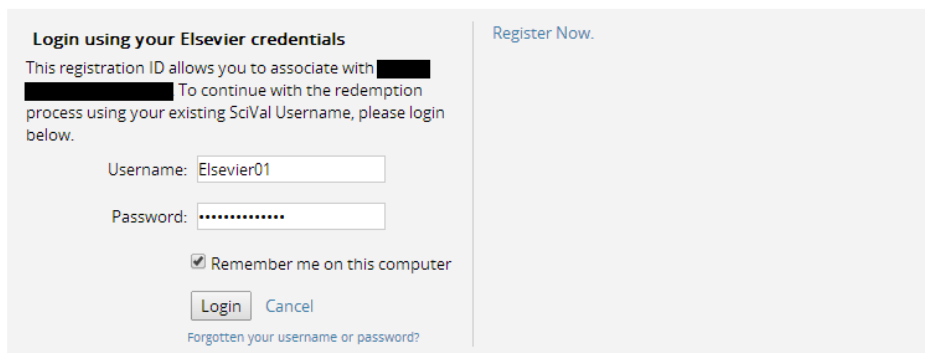

Remote access

If your institution subscribes to SciVal via remote access only, please use the registration links provided to you by your librarian/administrator to gain access to SciVal. Please note that the registration links are unique and they can only be used once.

The registration link enables you to redeem the remote access on your existing Elsevier's profile, so if you have login credentials to access another Elsevier's product (e.g. Scopus, ScienceDirect, SciVal Strata), please use your existing username and password to log in. There is also a forgotten username or password link, if needed. This allows you to use a single username and password to access our products.

Registration ID association

The screenshot shows a login form for associating a registration ID. It is divided into two main sections. The left section is titled "Login using your Elsevier credentials" and contains the following text: "This registration ID allows you to associate with [redacted] [redacted]. To continue with the redemption process using your existing SciVal Username, please login below." Below this text are two input fields: "Username:" with the value "Elsevier01" and "Password:" with a masked password ".....". There is a checked checkbox for "Remember me on this computer". At the bottom of this section are "Login" and "Cancel" buttons, and a link for "Forgotten your username or password?". The right section is titled "Register Now." and contains a single blue link.

If you don't have login credentials to access another Elsevier's product, please click on the "Register Now" link to create one.
